WITH ALL OF OUR LOVE

TO MRS. LOSPINOSO: OUR ADVISOR AND FRIEND

Throughout the past four years, we have relied on you for all of our class activities. Never have you let us down nor have you given us anything except your best. We cannot expresss how greatly you are appreciated by the class, your class. Thank you for being our friend.

TO MRS. SEARIAC: OUR SECRETARY AND FRIEND

For the hours and time spent organizing our class and keeping it together, we have built a great respect and love for you. The entire class realizes the understanding that you have extended in our behalf. You are a hard-worker, super lady, and a good friend.

TO MR. JOYCE: OUR ADMINISTRATOR AND FRIEND

How can we begin to express our love, respect, and devotion to you. You have suffered with us, stood by us, and comforted us in trying times High School can be one of the most difficult periods in your life but with your help, the time spent at South has been enjoyable and a lot easier. You have cared for us as though we were your own children and guided us onto the right path. We realize the time you have put into our class and the love which you have bestowed upon us during these four years. To you Mr. Joyce, our friend, we leave our love for you to cherish forever. The class of 1981 salutes you, Mr. Joyce.

The class of 1981 would like to dedicate this volume of the Philomath to the three individuals who have dedicated the most time, effort, and devotion to us. We thank you for the many things which you have done for us and have only this small token of appreciation for all of your love. To Mrs. Seariac, Mrs. Lospinoso, and Mr. Joyce, we dedicate this book to you, with love.

In Deep Memory of Leo McKenna

The easiest words to say
Seem somehow the hardest to write.
Sad words do have their say,
Still have no answers anyways.
It just seems so unfair . . .
So very unfair . . .
But behind the fears and tears,
Behind this seemingly endless lingering loss.
Which one of us dare smile,
Or how many of us already have,
I think we all have the strength,
To match little Leo's laugh,
Saying he's better now.

Death be not a burnt out candle,
But a candle blown out
Because the dawn has come.

Genius

When classes like world history, biology and geometry threatened to put me to sleep, I dreamed up some ways to stay awake.

First, I changed my seat to the front of the class. While I could no longer nap in late, my listening ability and class participation improved noticeably.

Breaking the last-minute study habit was harder, but on test days it really paid off. I saved a lot of yawns and dark circles by doing as gnaws every night.

My marginal doodles turned into creative class notes. Then I devised a system to help remember facts and their proper order. Starting with a permanent list of nouns, I invented connections between each noun and the facts I had to know.

SCREAM AND SHOUT

Electric lights and eight foot speakers, fifth row floor and scalping tickets, riding the T and screaming for more. Without a doubt, concerts and keg parties are the most-loved events during the year. The 1980-81 season brought Boston, Providence, Cape Cod, and even Springfield great concerts: Bob Seger (9/9), Kansas and Molly Hatchet (11/10), Bruce Springsteen (12/15), The Doobie Brothers (11/15). J. Geils (summer shows and 12/27), James Taylor (10/25), The Cars (12/1), Santana, the Greatful Dead, Black Sabbath and Blue Oyster Cult, Jackson Browne at Tanglewood and all the others we missed. During the fall, one or two all sports rallies are held to muster support and spirit for the football team's impending game. This year's rally, held the day before the South-North game was exciting and very successful. All the varsity captains gave speeches while our own South High "Ironfield" eagle paraded "modestly" around the gym making wild passes at the football players. Also, the Cheerleaders, Pom Pom girls, Majorettes, and Colorguard exhibited for the school while the marching band played at their best. The highlight of the rally was Coach Giagari's moving speech, thanking South for opening their arms to him. Here's to you, Scooch, we love ya!

FRIENDSHIPS

When you're old and gray and thinking back to those high school years, it won't be the teachers, books, or the failure in gym that you'll remember, but rather the friendships you've made that will remain in your heart. You'll always recall the last-minute studying and the similar test grades, the parties and the hangovers, the private jokes and the Saturday night cruises around Framingham. The friends you have will be your friends forever although you're not always together. If, for no other apparent reason, you'll cherish the years at South because the friendships you've made are priceless.

CALVIN KLEIN VS. LEVI STRAUSS

Clothes have been a basic necessity from Adam and Eve's fig leaves to Mr. Minnichelli's Friday tie. The styles which we feel most comfortable in . . . blue jeans and monogram sweatshirts, velour tops and baseball shirts . . . have been around for a long time past and probably for a long time to come. But the late seventy's and early eighty's brought us fads and far-out styles like: baggie pants and shirts made of rug, shoes with collapsible wheels and sweatshirts with pictures. Whatever the styles may be, there will always be stores to suite the needs of those who dress with the times. Ask Terese; she knows how to dress.

PARTIES FOREVER

Will the class of 1999 still hold keg parties at PDC? Will McDonald's replace Friendly's as the favorite meeting place? Whose name will replace "Owen" on the toga party tickets? Will there be families and neighborhoods running throughout Millwood's fields? No one will ever forget the many parties and favorite spots to party during their high school years. The class of 1981 left there share of cans and ashes throughout the town, but all was in good fun. We only wish that future classes have plenty of fire wood to keep them warm through sub-zero temperatures.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Every connoisseur of fine food knows the best place to catch a bite to eat for lunch, while every kid with common sense at Framingham South knows the best place to catch a quick symptom of queasiness, hunger pains, or nausea. After four years of school lunches, any senior can tell you fascinating stories about the cafeteria's food and the results thereof. Without a doubt, many students become dependent on yodels, potato chips, chocolate chip cookies, brownies, and milk, while those fortunate enough to have a fifth, sixth, or seventh period study and a car will tell you "Nobody can do it like McDonald's can!"

PROPHECY

The year is 2006. The class of 1981 gathered in their favorite hall, the school cafeteria, for their 25th reunion. The cafe was marvelously decorated by Robin Gauthier, Paula Martotte, Connie Wynne, Carol Pedulla, Suki Resnic and Cheryl Goldrick. Caroline Coburn provided the entertainment as she twirled fire on stage. Reporters Steve Shariff and Paul Greenberg observed carefully with pad and pencil in hand. John Clopeck, Boston marathon winner arrived in a velvet sweat-suit with Cindy Jacobs, author and runner by his side. Gary Massey philosopher, predicted the future while Howard Getson boasted about his most memorable experiences. Lisa Mansur arrived with her seventh husband and twelve children. Jimmy Silver, winner of the Einstein award, described his new molecular theory with Maura Kelly, Ph.D. Karen Potenza appeared in the doorway wearing six inch pumps accompanied by Bill Hay and David Biernes on each side. Janet Joiner, fashion designer, look elegant in her leopard-skin suit and gold plated shoes. Dr. Julie Isen arrived late. She had recently completed emergency brain surgery assisted by Nurse Fudge. Donald Garron, running back for the Patriots along with Terese Giamarco, Broadway's latest success story, signed autographs all night. David Manion, current president, of Stop and Shop, discussed company policies with vice president Marcia Wane, while Sandy Revrqbby discussed new hospital procedures with Jeff Cohen. Mary beth Fougere arrived in her brand new sports car that she bought with profits from her Toyota dealership. Owen O'Rourke, who wanted the reunion at his house, spoke of his rarely driving school to stock car racer Larry Hoey. Jack Flinter the twentieth century Hugh Heffner, was surrounded by Playboy Bunnies all night. Alan Hutchinson, slap-stick comedian made his debut by streaking through the cafeteria holding red polka-dotted trunks in his hand. Angela and Joe Altobelli could not be present due the the arrival of their 15th child but sent regards to all. Kiki Walker held a jewlery display and Maureen Golgata bought her entire collection. David Dubin, slolomn racer, was accompanied by younger women while Robin Kunian's escort was coming along in years. Carol Sanchez foreign intrepreter, translated Marjorie Curran's thesis paper to Tommy Upham. Johs Pelligrini shocked the class with his untidy hair and shaven chest but Barry Lewis' meticulous outfit calmed their fears. Diane Lynch highlighted the evening with her own rendition of "The Way We Were", while John Dones set up a kissing booth in the rear of the room. Wally Connery lectured on the advantages of being small and Kathy Cullen listened attentively. Peter Taglienetti and R.C. Pignone arrived late since the Bruins game was delayed due the their unfinshed janitorial work. The two have only 10 more years of service. David Fritz sent his appologies in a telegram; it seemed that some of his students at the reform school had escaped. Peter Fantoni, six time winner of the Mr. Universe contest looked sharp in his speedo swim-suit. Katie McConarty also looked lovely in her low-cut evening gown although she thought differently. Nick Kanieff, channel 4 concert critic, brought his Boss to the reunion for all to admire. Mrs. Seariac brought her tardy slips and set up office at the door for those who were late or left early. Becky Esty discussed tennis strategies with Steve Levitt. Russ Schwartz listened with one ear while he pounded the theme to Wide World of Sports using his fork and spoon. Suellen Loyd left early to catch her midnight flight to Florida. Monica Sullivan was unable to attend due to some previous plans. Rachael Selig held a sign-up session for her class in yap-shutting which filled up immediately. Michelle Morrison told tales of her massive parties held since graduation. Kym Fasken fascinated all when she described her up-and-coming movie, "Urban Cowboy II". Katie Lelievre, hair stylist, gave hair tips to Pat Flanders. Barbara Supeno wore all white which none of the guests could figure out. Barbara Koos and Kim Ironfield provided thousands of chocolate chip cookies for the hungry crowd. Anat Hayon's pictures covered the walls. Ellen Ballou, president of Greyhound bus company provided transportation for those who lived far away. Unfortunately, Buffy O'Brien missed Ellen's notice and had no means of getting to school. Mark Ironfield, author of "Lines Men Use To Pick Up Women", tried out his material on Laurie Kizik but his efforts were fruitless. Shanon Baker parked her horse in Mr. McConarty's office; this angered the principal who later cancelled the class of 2006's rally, prom, and banquet. Judy Rossini and Eric Cohen finally announced their wedding and distributed invitations to anxious friends. The entire class was astonished when Jose Dones changed his/her name to Josephine; what a knockout! Betsy O'Grady spoke of her efforts to save the whales to P.B. Leddy, headmaster at Dana Hall Academy. John Tosti, recently divorced after 25 years of marriage arrived with his new romance Bo Derek (friends were revolted). Ruth Rosenstien, professor of law at Princeton University brought her close friend, Hollywood sex symbol Sue Chase. Linda Murphy, probation officer, was forced to arrest Glen Wolfset for disturbing the peace. Sal Cappizzi, the country's first male nun, arrived with Pope David Rothstein, and Rabbi Khan Tam who announced that he was to change his name for business purposes to Joe Smith. Nancy Snow brought her ant farm for all to view while Cindy Seariac modeled her new designer leotards to anxious customers. Caroly Assa boasted of her last few months at high school spent in college. For those who were to stay overnight, Scott Morrissey brought their luggage to a safer place and was well tipped. Todd Leach surprised his friends with his completely straight hair and new body from intense body building. Sharon Brown author of the book "Morals for your Life", was the guest speaker for the evening. Robin Decina took pictures all night but this reporter knows not to hold his breath for the development of them by Dustin Hassard. Joan Cunningham, live in border at North Adams State College, was not able to attend although Maria Mulherin offered to pick her up. Amy Offenberg, Boston Celtics coach, invited all her contingents to the next Celtics banquet where Bill Hay is receiving "the most hours spent with a basketball award." Lisa Takacs, Olympic lacrosse player arrived with coach Sage Boyle. Tommy Quirk, president of Krone Clogs, gave a free pair of clogs to decathlon winner, Jimmy Carney. Michelle Nickerson shocked the crowd when she weighed in at 350 pounds which Paula Marcotte president of weight-watchers was astonished at. Mike Forman lighting director of Universal Studios flew in from Hollywood with director Stuart Baum. Liz Snyder, gossip columnist for the Los Angelus Times was busy interviewing Amy Tucker on her new line of noses. Lisa Hoecker spend the evening test-tasting the new Budweiser beer and was unable to make a comment. Pam Hall made a late entrance in her Dorothy Hamill hair style escorted by Timmy Cronan who also was recently shaved (nothing has changed in 25 years.) Donna Sliney, president of the U.S. Treasury Department handled the reunions finances while Chris Keefe took careful notes of all the goings-on. Vincent Francis Michael Zanella, president of the Ronzoni Pasta Co., provided the main course of 2 tons of spaghetti enjoyed thoroughly by all. Regretfully manager of the group Heart, Arlene Ferrini was snowed in the therefore could not attend. A late telegram informed the class that Ezia Marone had missed her plane out of the Blue Lagoon. Sharon Morris, the new cross-your-heart salesgirl, demonstrated the latest styles in undergarments to Georgianne Souhlaris. Peter Lemay arrived with his date who we were unable to identify. Feo Fabri gave gift certificates to his punk club in Boston. Adam Stanger was the recipient of more than a dozen but since Feo's co-owner is referred to as Fluti, no one else would attend. David Cassavant brought a complete drug selection including smelling salts. Lori Klienman and Cara Ferragamo were his first customers. Paul Gordon, Globe cartoonist, drew caricatures of Larry Geogean, Scott Galant, and Doug Sampson. Golden Gloves champion Mike King started a fight with Robert Scalzi and the class was terrified. (except Wally Connery who wanted a piece of the action.) All in all, the evening was enjoyable for all who could attend. The Class agreed the reunion was a success and made plans for another party in 25 years.

We have tried to bring as much of the whole school as possible. We'll never forget the friendships we've made here and as the years go by we believe the 1981 Philomath will be able to remind of the laughter and good times. Enjoy this yearbook and keep it as a constant reminder of 1981 at Framingham South High School.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

March Behrens Japan: March 1980 — March 1981

My AFS year in Japan has been extremely meaningful. Sharing in the daily life of a typical Japanese family has many rewards. Participating in the public school program has been quite demanding. Their sports programs also require maximum concentration. I feel privileged to have had a small part working toward the great goals of AFS: international peace and understanding.

SOUND OF SUCCESS
COMPANY,
BOSE.

THE PRELUDE...

In 1964, BOSE Corporation was founded by Dr. Amar Bose — the realization of his quest for the perfect high fidelity loudspeaker. Today, BOSE has achieved international acclaim for the development of just such a product.

That's where it all started. And this is where it has led. To a privately held and financially sound company headquartered in the town of Framingham. With more than 1000 creative, innovative people working to make our already superior products even more incredible.

THE OPUS...

Bose is always open to hearing from people who are good at what they do, have the ingenuity to get even better, and want the opportunity to realize their potential.

THE FINALE...

is entirely up to you. You're off to a good start. We wish you luck in your quest. And we want you to know that your success this year sounds good to us.

Now you can enlist for two short years.

Sign up with the Army for just two years, and you could start college two years older, two years wiser, and as much as $9,200 richer.

It works like this:

Under the Veterans' Educational Assistance Program, you save up to $100 a month from your pay and this money is matched by Uncle Sam $2 for $1.

After 24 months of saving the maximum, you would have $7,200 in your education fund.

If you qualify and select one of several specified skills, the Army will add an education bonus of $2,000, bringing your total to $9,200.

See if you qualify for this new program.

ZIGOTEGOS, SOPHIE D.

To you I give my thanks;
    Oh dear friend of mine.
For without you, I could not have made it,
    Through so many trying times.
You say just the things I wish you will say,
    And make me believe that you mean it.
You make me feel that my burdens are less
    Even if it is for but a moment.
There are many times when encouragement means
    so much to me,
        And a word is enough to help me feel better.
So many others could say just that word,
    But, it seems, you are the one who always says it.
How can I express, in words, how I feel?
    Without you there would be something lacking.
I never knew how much a friend could mean to me,
    Until I had the good fortune to meet you.
I thank God for your friendship;
    It is quite a gift.
However, I ask of him but one more favor;
    That I can be as good a friend to you
As you have been to me.
